21CV-03873

[Parties' names withheld pursuant to CCP § 1161.2(a)(1)]

Demurrer to Complaint

Defendant's general demurrer to the complaint on the ground that the alleged notice of termination of tenancy attached to the complaint is defective on its face and insufficient to constitute a cause of action for unlawful detainer is OVERRULED. Although the 60-day notice of termination of tenancy does not use the precise language of Civil Code section 1946.2, subdivision (b)(2)(B) (i.e., "[w]ithdrawal of the residential real property from the rental market"), the Court finds the language used in the notice ("Owner intends to withdraw the Premises from the rental market") is substantially similar and sufficient to constitute a cause of action for no-fault just cause eviction under the Tenant Protection Act of 2019. The Court notes that whether the alleged reason for termination of tenancy is true is an issue of fact for trial.

Defendant shall file his responsive pleading within five days of notice of entry of order. (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.1320(g); Code Civ. Proc., § 472b.) The prevailing party is directed to prepare a written order and submit the order by electronic filing to Commissioner David Foster.

Motion to Strike Complaint

Defendant's motion to strike the complaint in its entirety on the ground that plaintiff is a corporation and cannot represent itself in court in propria persona is DENIED. After defendant filed the motion to strike, plaintiff filed a substitution of attorney. A corporation's failure to be represented by an attorney is a defect that may be corrected. (CLD Construction, Inc. v. City of San Ramon (2004) 120 Cal.App.4th 1141, 1149-50.)

Defendant shall file his answer within five days of notice of entry of order. (Code Civ. Proc., § 472a, subd. (d).) The prevailing party is directed to prepare a written order and submit the order by electronic filing to Commissioner David Foster.
